I need to book my used BMW X5 in for a service. It has done 90,000 miles and the dashboard is indicating it is now due. This vehicle has been a faithful servant, covering mostly motorway miles every day, up and down the M40. It has got a full service history having always been maintained at Big Motoring World in Kent where I live. According to their dealer website, they have a used BMW X5 sale on this weekend. I may consider upgrading and part exchanging mine for a newer model. I need to make my mind up before I pay for this service and MOT.
